How Technology is Changing the Face of Aging

Tuesday, March 1st, 2016
7:30 am to 12:30 pm
University of Arizona Student Union, North Ballroom

This year’s conference will focus on providing useful suggestions to promote successful aging and brain health by using and applying new technologies in our daily lives.

Registration for the conference is $15.00*.

- How technology is changing the face of aging
- E-health: Using mobile technology to maintain health
- Can technology enhance healthy lifestyles and brain fitness?
- Social media: Connecting to people, places, and resources
- Precision medicine: The future of personalized healthcare

*Please note, prior to February 22nd, 2016, refunds will be given for cancellations, minus a 12% administrative fee. Beginning February 22nd, 2016, no refunds will be given. No refunds will be given for no shows. Registration fees are not tax deductible.

Registration Form

Name(s) (full names of all attendees)
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
Address____________________________________________________________________________________
City____________________State_____Zip____________________
E-mail________________________________________________________
Phone (___)_________________________________________________

TOTAL $_______ Registration $15/person

Payment Information:

☐ Check enclosed payable to UA Foundation (ACoSA)

Or to pay by credit card, please visit: www.psychology.arizona.edu/ACoSA