Tours on Saturday

Tours on Saturday afternoon, each lasting approximately 1 hour:

Steward Observatory Mirror Lab: 527 National Championship Drive. Meet at the east side of UA Football Stadium, the front door is located just to the left as you are just about to walk underneath the stadium. The tour guides will meet you at the entrance (by the 2 blue benches out front). Please try to arrive 10 minutes before your 2pm tour. (See Map below.)

Flandrau Science Center and Planetarium: The planetarium tour is specifically geared towards families and includes the planetarium show and the "Exploring Sky Islands" exhibit as well as the Dynamic Earth Planetarium show which starts at 2pm (Map).

- Dynamic Earth - The award-winning Dynamic Earth explores the inner workings of Earth’s climate system. Audiences will ride along on swirling ocean and wind currents, dive into the heart of a monster hurricane, come face-to-face with sharks and gigantic whales, and fly into roiling volcanoes. Narrated by Liam Neeson.

  Type of Show: FullDome film followed by a live star talk
  Recommended for: 3rd grade and up.

Please let the front desk know you are with the Department of Psychology and their staff will have a list with the names of those who have registered.
Bringing your children?

Bring your family, kids are welcome at all the events, free of charge. The Planetarium tour on Saturday afternoon is specifically geared towards families. Since your children might not want to attend the invited address Saturday afternoon, we'll have games on the mall organized and supervised by current graduate students and undergrads. Please let us know if you'll be bringing your kids along, and their ages.

Alfred W. Kaszniak Graduate Fellowship

In honor of Al's enormous contribution to the field of neuropsychology, we have established an endowed fellowship in his name. The award will be given to yearly to a promising incoming graduate student in clinical neuropsychology. Contributions to the fund can be made through the Reunion registration payment page. Donation cards will also be available at the dinner.
