

Psychology Students Wanted!

Psychology Discovery

Fall 2026

Psychology Discovery

Psychology Discovery is a program run by the Psychology Department at the University of Arizona, in collaboration with the Flandrau Science Center.

This program invites 5th - 12th grade classes from Tucson-area schools to visit the University of Arizona campus. We set up a series of stations for groups of visiting students to explore psychological ideas, demonstrations, and activities.

We are recruiting Psychology B.A. and Psychological Science B.S. students to design and run the program in exchange for Independent Study or Directed Research credit. Selected students will be able to earn 1-3 units, depending on their interest in participating in additional projects and data analysis.

During Fall 2026, Psychology Discovery will run on Tuesdays from 9 am - 12 pm. You must be available to consistently attend these times every Tuesday in order to participate.

Are you interested?

Click here to apply

Applications close on Wednesday April 22, 2026. Applications must be submitted by this date to be considered.

Got questions?

- Professor Adam Lazarewicz (anl@arizona.edu)